

LICENSE VOTES IN MANY PLACES

SIX HUNDRED WISCONSIN COMMUNITIES TO SAY YES OR NO ON SALOONS.

DRYS PUT ON THE DEFENSIVE

Some Cities Where Saloons Have Been Voted Out Are Debating Question Of Reversion.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., March 26.—No license elections will be held on April 5 in about 600 communities in Wisconsin, and present indications bear out the claims of the Anti-Saloon league that many of them will be carried by the "drys." In some of the smaller cities, such as Sparta, Dodgeville, Black River Falls, Beloit, Neenah-Menasha, and Burlington, the chances for the success of "drys" cause are deemed unusually favorable.

Among the places where no-license elections will be held are: Milwaukee, Madison, Racine, Kenosha, Edgemoor, Clinton, Beloit, Merrillan, Alton, Center, Neenah-Menasha, Black River Falls, Manitowish, Fairchild, Rio, Ashland, New London, Kilmorin, Sparta, Dodgeville, Spring Green, Hudson, Days Mills, Nettieville, Fair Oaks, Blooming Grove, Loyal, Granton, Greenwood, Oakville, Trempealeau, Mineral Point, Oshkosh, Janesville, Scales, Tompkins, De Soto, Holman, Lake Mills, Argyle, Blanchardville, Plattville, New Richmond, Mazomanie, Black Earth, Wausau, Grantsburg, Antigo, Ferryville, Brownsville, Elkhorn, Augusta, and Janesville.

John F. Burke of this city, legislative superintendent for the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league, declared today that a large number of the communities will be carried by "drys," and that the fight will be a hard one.

"I am afraid that as the petitions must be filed this year ten days before election day, many of the towns which might have decided just before election day to vote on the question will lose their chance this year. We expect that in most of the places the fight will be hard. In many of the cities, where the no-license law is now in effect the "drys" will endeavor to recover their lost ground and have revived the question this year. Of course, in the larger places, like Milwaukee, the election this year can accomplish nothing but to serve as a campaign of education for the citizens, in preparation for the fight two years hence."

MOTHER-IN-LAW IS TO BE AN AVENGER?

Mrs. W. D. Wolcott of Portland Is Responsible For Prosecution Of George Pepoon For Wife Murder.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Colville, Wash., March 26.—An avenging mother-in-law is responsible for the serious plight of George L. Pepoon, who is about to be placed on trial here to answer for the alleged murder of his wife, Mrs. Edith Pepoon. The death of Mrs. Pepoon occurred at Northport last August, shortly after Mrs. W. D. Wolcott, mother of the dead woman, was informed by a neighbor of Mrs. Pepoon that her death had been unusual. Mrs. Wolcott went immediately to Northport and set to work quietly to unravel the mystery. As a result of her investigations Pepoon was arrested on a charge of murder in the first degree and a similar indictment was returned against Ray Wilcox, who is believed to have furnished the alibi for the other person which caused Mrs. Pepoon's death.

Wilcox, who is an ex-convict, left the town shortly after Mrs. Pepoon's death and so far the authorities have been unable to locate him. The day of her death Mrs. Pepoon was found lying face down, but toward night felt better. While entertaining friends during the evening she was given a dose of medicine and a few minutes later, it is stated, she died in convulsions. A few weeks before her death she had taken out a $1000 insurance policy on her life. This, together with Pepoon's infatuation for another woman, whom he married three months after his wife's death, are believed to have furnished the motive for the alleged deed of the husband to get rid of his wife.

ETNA'S ERUPTION KEEPS SICILIANS TERROR STRICKEN

Fiery River Twenty-Five Miles Long Moves Down Mountain—Danger Reported to be Decreasing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Catania, Sicily, March 26.—The eruptions from the sides of Mount Etna continued today and a fiery river was formed at the foot of Mount Castellan and moved slowly toward Barrolo and Melisso, surrounding everything in its path.

The lava stream winding in and out over the uneven surface at the mountain base has covered probably twenty-five miles, though its head is not more than ten miles from the sources in an air line.

Throughout the night the summit of Mount Etna appeared to be ablaze but today a cloud of black smoke enveloped the peak.

Prolonged rumblings from the central crater and frequent explosions from the side fissures served as continually as the flood itself to hold in terror the populace for miles around.

Eruption Decreases.

The eruption of Mount Etna decreased noticeably as the day progressed and this evening the worst appears to have been passed. Streams of lava moving in the direction of Barrolo have diminished in volume and velocity while the flow which has threatened Melisso has almost ceased.

Washington, D. C., March 26.—Shilling from Alexandria Wednesday on the steamer Palma Heinrich, former President Roosevelt will arrive in Naples two days later to begin his European tour. From Naples the Roosevelt party will proceed direct to Rome, where they are to be elaborately entertained.

The only public engagement that President Taft has so far scheduled for the week is set for Saturday, when he will go to Baltimore to attend a dinner in honor of his friend, Dr. W. H. Welch.

Thursday is the day set for the maximum tariff rates to go into effect against all countries which have not been found to practice no undue discriminations against the United States. In the meantime negotiations with Canada and France will be continued and tariff officials here are hopeful that all questions are being solved before the date set for the new schedules to become operative.

Projected in Congress and placed in Stagnary Hall at the Capitol ten years ago the statue of Francis H. Pierpont, one of West Virginia's favorite sons, is to be formally accepted with the customary ceremonies on Saturday.

Senator Cull, the week will also see the end of another notable court proceeding, namely, the Russell will case, at Cambridge, Mass., following nearly five months spent in taking testimony in regards to the claims of Daniel Russell of North Dakota to be the son and heir of the late Daniel Blake Russell, a wealthy resident of Melrose, Mass.

Notable weddings will figure prominently in the news of the week. On Easter Monday the marriage of Miss Dorothy Davenport daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Davenport, and William T. Another international alliance is to be consummated in Washington the day following, when Miss Constance Hoyt, daughter of the former Solicitor General and Mrs. Hoyt, will be married to Baron Ferdinand von Ezzum, second secretary of the German embassy.

The British parliament will reassemble Monday, following the Easter recess. It is expected that the Government will at once present its proposals in regard to abolishing the veto power of the House of Lords, which means that the parliamentary struggle over the great issue of the late general election will then begin in earnest.

Faculty vs. Seniors: The final basketball game of the season at the high school will be the contest between the Seniors and the Faculty, the week after school commences after the Easter vacation.

"INSURGENTS" THE REAL CARD SHARKS

Self-Annointed "Regulars" Look Like "Bridged Sinkers" Last Evening.

In the bridge whist contest at the Elks clubrooms last evening the self-appointed "Regulars" who have been planning themselves a great deal on repeated victories over "Beloit," were badly routed by the "Insurgents," a group of card players organized for the express purpose of knocking the props out from under the mighty, if such a thing could be done. It could be, and was, done by 461 points. Holmes and Huskins and Jackman and Metcalf were the only Regular teams who won their contests. The vanquished not only paid for the delicious supper served at the Hotel Myers but as a proper concession to the fitness of things have had to decline a challenge sent in from Afton. In the following lineup the last-named, who were destined to be first, are the doughty "Insurgents": Carlo and Harris vs. Simpson and McCoy; Valentine and Capelle vs. Welch and Stern; Burnham and Clark vs. Ellis and Bonham; Holmes and Huskins vs. Kimmner and McGillich; Jackman and McGee vs. King and Blodgett.

"The Little Brother of the Rich"

FLANDERS

TWENTY

Fastest, Snappiest, Classiest of All Low Price Cars

Its "works" are every bit as good as it looks. Its motor—4 cylinders—is silent, sweet running and powerful. Read the following specifications thoroughly:

SPECIFICATIONS FLANDERS "20"

MOTOR:—20 horse-power. Four cylinder, cast in blue-steel, following best European and American practice in motor of these dimensions.

BORE:—3 1/2 inch. Stroke, 3 1/2 inch.

COOLANT:—Motor is water cooled, the jackets being extra large, insuring good circulation and a plentiful supply of water under all conditions. Water jackets surrounded valve ports also. Circulation is maintained by a centrifugal pump of liberal proportions, and simple design, driven from magneto shaft.

LUBRICATION:—Same principle as E-M-F "30" vacuum feed oiler having no moving parts and consequently impossible to disarrange. Cannot flood nor starve the motor—all level always the same regardless of road levels, speed of motor, or any other conditions.

IGNITION:—Dual system, consisting of (a) Spilldorf magneto—same as E-M-F "30," of which at this writing are 10,000 in daily use and not a complaint; (b) a set of dry cell batteries are supplied for emergency use.

CARBURETOR:—Is of the approved float feed type similar to that of E-M-F "30" and, like the latter, is of our own design and manufacture.

CLUTCH:—Is of the reversed cone type—leather faced—the type that has outlived all the "multiple disc" and other fads.

REAR AXLE:—Is similar in design and construction to that of E-M-F "30," which has proven so satisfactory to owners—so disappointing to competitive makers.

TRANSMISSION:—Is incorporated in the rear axle—the ideal construction for cars of light medium weight. This confines the operating mechanism to two units and affords a maximum of flexibility in the chassis.

FRONT AXLE:—Is drop forged in one piece—not welded in the center—from special steel of high tensile and elastic properties.

SPRINGS:—Front, semi-elliptic. Rear, full elliptic with scroll ends—same as E-M-F "30" and on other high grade cars. Aime of easy riding and breakages practically unknown.

BRAKES:—Following the most up-to-date practice—but hitherto found only in high priced cars—both sets of brakes are of the internal expanding metal shoe type. Encased in a pressed steel drum on rear axle.

FENDERS:—Enamelled steel. Enclosed full length of car.

WHEEL BASE:—100 inches. Tread, Standard, 56 1/2 inches.

TIRES:—32 inches by 3 inches—ample tire equipment and good safety factor.

GASOLINE CAPACITY:—12 gallons—sufficient for 250 to 300 miles.

OPERATION AND CONTROL:—As this car is designed for the use of owners and will probably be sold to be driven by skilled chauffeurs, every effort has been made to simplify the control and make every part "foot proof."

BODY TYPES:—Three, Runabout, Standard type, but having large deck at rear, enclosed 7 1/2 inches high for carrying trunks, samples or other articles. An ideal and practical utility vehicle and withal handsome.

SUBURBAN:—A natty four-passenger car without doors. The rear pair of seats are removable and otherwise the body is same as Runabout.

RACE ROADSTER:—A classy two-passenger Roadster, with gasoline tank exposed at rear of seat. Large receptacle under seats and another under rear deck.

EQUIPMENT:—Spilldorf magneto; 2 side oil lamps; 1 oil tall lamp; 2 acetylene headlights and acetylene generator, and good tubular horn.

PRICE:—Runabout, seating two, $750. Suburban, seating four, with rear seats, removable, $790. Race Roadster, $790.

E-M-F

THIRTY

This is the car that is attracting such favorable comment—the automobile sensation—classy—roomy—reliable. Guaranteed by the largest manufacturers of automobiles in the world—40,000 cars this season. When you're in an E. M. F. "30" you are in as classy a car as there is in the market. Read the specifications:

SPECIFICATIONS E-M-F "30"

MOTORING:—It is a marvel of power, economy and performance. No motor of the same dimensions (48 1/2) produces within 20 per cent of the power.

CYLINDERS:—Bore 4. Stroke 4 1/2. Compression—moderate. All experience has proven these cylinder dimensions to be nearly ideal for all kinds of service.

CRANK SHAFT:—Is offset 3/4 from center line of cylinders—still another increase in power efficiency with minimum wear on cylinder walls and pistons. Crank shaft, drop forged from special steel.

LUBRICATION:—Splash-automatic, vacuum feed—reliable and economical. Oil reservoir cast integral with aluminum crank case.

IGNITION:—Double system, consisting of (a) Spilldorf magneto, (b) battery. The magneto is not an extra or special equipment. It is as much a part of the E-M-F motor as the valves, and is included in the flat price of the car.

COOLING:—Is by large centrifugal pump—high efficiency at slow engine speeds insuring cooling in hill climbing and hard pulling over muddy roads.

CARBURETOR:—Has proven a marvel of flexibility and simplicity. Our own make, so well made and all made alike. Never heard an E-M-F "30" "misfire" in your life.

CLUTCH:—A cone clutch—simple and also better in some respects, has been substituted for the expanding ring clutch in former models. Needs no adjustment, and steel springs under the leather facing makes it take hold as smoothly as the ring clutch did.

TRANSMISSION:—Type—Selective sliding gear. Gear case integral with differential housing in rear axle—"the unit power transmission system" so generally approved by engineers of late.

REAR AXLE:—E-M-F exclusive design. Right and left housing sections drawn from sheet steel and heat treated, giving extra strength. Fitted with truss rods.

FRONT AXLE:—I-beam type. Drop forged in one piece—not welded in center. Heat treated. Spring perches forged integral. Liberal safety factor.

WHEELS:—Artillery type. Large spokes—12. Spokes and felloes first grade second growth hickory.

TIRES:—Morgan-Wright. Good tires. Equipment has proven amply light. Remember that excessive tire equipment simply obligates you to pay more than you ought for your tires.

SPRINGS:—Front, semi-elliptic. Rear, full elliptic. Extra wide for this weight of car—2. Driving thrusts and balancing strains taken by two radius rods—not by springs.

FRAME:—Pressed steel—U-section. Side members straight—strengthened neither by offsetting nor drooping.

MUFFLER:—E-M-F design, silent. Silences by radiation—not by obstruction. Absolutely no back-pressure.

FENDERS:—Enamelled steel in the newest style, most approved enclosed full-length-of-the-car type.

WHEEL BASE:—108. TREAD—Standard 56 1/2. WEIGHT—(Exact) with all tanks full—2,640 pounds; with top, side curtains and glass wind-shield—all tanks full—2,150 pounds.

BODY:—New "FLOOR" type—up to the minute in style and finish. Two-hundred pounds comfortably.

COLOR:—Body dark blue, running gear yellow. From across the street you couldn't tell whether it was a $5,000 car or a $1,250 one.

PRICE:—$1,250.

DON'T GET MAD.

Control your temper, my son. It does not pay to get mad. I know a very competent business man who occasionally gets a very abusive letter. He invariably answers it in like tenor, and then he is very careful not to mail his letter. He can't afford to get mad.

I know another business man who is impulsive and quick to resent an angry speech who, when he is thus aroused, invariably reaches for his hat and goes into the open air. After a brief walk he comes back smiling. The fact is he who lets go his temper and explodes in public is greatly at a disadvantage.

Do you get that? I know a lawyer of great ability who often defeats himself because of his fractious ways. Other lawyers, knowing his disposition, put him on the defensive by deliberately stirring up his anger.

You see, the man who loses his temper is apt to lose his judgment.

Indeed, it can be stated that he who displays a violent anger in company is temporarily insane.

Though he may be heartily ashamed of his fit of indignation when the outburst is over, it helps nothing. In the temporary insanity of a furious rage a man is likely to go to extreme lengths. Even murder lies that way.

Bottle up your wrath.

If you habitually give yourself over to exhibitions of fury you may expect to be lowered in the estimation of every one. A gentleman does not vent his spleen.

Howards of savage speech.

If you flame up and show your choler to your employer you are likely to lose your job. If you are yourself an employer and indulge your out-spoken passion against your employee, who is prohibited from talking back, you show yourself a coward.

Cultivate self control.

Control of yourself is fundamental. You cannot control others until you have learned to control yourself. You cannot command until you have learned how to obey.

Mastery of self is the finest exhibition of a man. It goes to make what we call force of character. It is controlled, unvented reserve power.

Do not let your temper be boss.

It does not pay.

To Get Rid of Mice.
When traps are of no avail or are objected to in catching mice a good plan is to saturate bits of sponge or cotton wool with oil of pepper and place it in their holes, or sprinkle the oil in any place that they are likely to frequent. Another plan is to make a cement of plaster of Paris, cayenne pepper and cold water, and fill the mouse holes with this. The best remedy, however, is a cat.

A Gentle Criticism.
"The difference," remarked the drug store philosopher, as a motor car barely missed him, "is that wild goose hunt continually, while the educated goose is the fellow who forgets to hunt."

Cicero's Idea of Citizenship.
A private citizen ought to live on terms of equality with his fellow-citizens, neither cringing nor subservient, nor haughty nor insolent; he ought to be favorable to measures in the state which lead to peace and quietness, for such we consider to be the character of a virtuous and upright citizen.—Cicero.

2,365 Overlands In One Day

On one day in February the company received orders from dealers for the delivery of 2,365 Overlands. The four Overland factories employ 4,000 men, yet this single day's orders meant three weeks' production. Thus the tide of demand—more markedly than ever—is turning to this matchless car.

They have already booked orders for many thousands of cars to be delivered in 1911. One dealer alone has ordered 3,500—the largest automobile order that ever was placed.

Thus men who know Overlands—who see what they are doing—are making sure of their future supplies.

Thousands of owners have told thousands of others that no car compares with this.

Because no car is so simple, so trouble-proof, and none gives so much for the money.

Because of the wonderful engine—the pedal control—the fact that the car almost cares for itself.

The features which bring this flood-like demand to the Overland will also win you when you know them.

25 h. p. $1000—40 h. p. $1250

The cost of the Overland, tremendous production, has been cut about 20 per cent.

This year you get a 25-horsepower Overland, with 102-inch wheel base, for $1,000. And a 40-horsepower Overland, with 112-inch wheel base, for $1,250, with single rumble seat. Prices include lamps and magneto.

Buyers would willingly pay a great deal more to secure the Overland features. But you get them all at a lower price than any equal grade cars can be sold.

DENTAL WORK

If you are wise you won't trust on a dentist working night on your tooth.

Artificial light makes filling teeth largely guess work. Work done by daylight is far more reliable.

It is expensive, for you to have to have your work done over in a few months just because the dentist with all the artificial light he could obtain was not able to see and remove all the decayed matter before filling the tooth.

By daylight it might have been different. I do my work by daylight, I am constantly replacing work done by night working dentists. Work done by day is not called day times you say, you can't.

I have yet failed to see the man or woman who could not arrange with these employees to get off for a few occasional hours sufficiently to get their teeth put in order. Where there is a tooth put in a way.

San Francisco—One of the best biddings of the season put Russell Blackburn, the shortstop last fall, out of business for a few days. Blackburn was asked through the hand. Blackburn was not serious. It was found that Blackburn might not let him use the hand to any extent.

During the training trip Blackburn has shown the form that would make him worth $5,000 to any club. He has played a marvelous game at short and has hit the ball well. Last fall he was eagerly sought by Pittsburgh and the National commission had to decide as to the club that was to get him. It is certain that Blackburn has been secured by the Pirates. Hans Wagner would have gone to first base, in Larry Layton has done on the Naps this season.

"ENTHUSIASM" THE SLOGAN FOR BOOSTING JANEVILLE

LUCIUS WILSON SOUNDS KEY-NOTE FOR PROMOTION CAMPAIGN.

MEETING WELL ATTENDED

Secretary of Greater Des Moines Committee Gave Forceful Address Last Night.

Preaching the gospel that opportunity is knocking insistently and that it needs but enthusiasm and a "get together and boost" spirit on the part of the citizens to force Janeville into its rightful place among the growing cities of the nation, Lucius E. Wilson, Secretary of the Greater Des Moines Committee, compelled the attention of a representative body of local business men last night at the city hall where he delivered an address under the auspices of the Commercial and Industrial Club.

Talked From Experience. Based on his experience on commissions drawn from a highly successful business campaign to arouse the citizens of Des Moines from a comatose state that is duplicated in this city at the present time, Mr. Wilson placed directly into the heart of what he termed the handicap under which Janeville is laboring, illustrating and illuminating his points by apt quotations and statistics.

Belittles Freight Rates. Although there may be those among his hearers who disagree with him in some respects, his address had the more than compensating merit of presenting an old subject in a new way for he disregarded many of the old arguments which were supposed to have their influence in keeping this city in a modest background of commercial enterprises and placed the blame on difficulties which reflected far more on the mental attitude of the citizens than on the natural disadvantages. High freight rates were belittled, ignored and commission government denounced.

Dominant Note. "Cities are built where men want them," was the dominant note for his address. All of his arguments tended to establish the truth of this assertion. He had supreme confidence in the truth of his message and imparted this confidence to not a few of his hearers, a fact evidenced by the hearty applause that greeted the conclusion of his address. He delivered his arguments in a clear, forceful manner, leaving his audience the task of accepting or rejecting his conclusions according to their own judgment.

Telling Hints. Following are a few sparks from his enthusiasm battery.

"Cities are built where men want them."
"More talk is useless backed up by the intention to do something."
"The duty of a city boosting organization is to inspire the young men with confidence enough in their city to bet their time, money and future on its ultimate success."
"All boosting must begin at home."
"The man who overlooks human enterprise in boosting a town must in the end revise all his fine spun theories."
"Too much stress is laid on freight rates by any and every city. It is easier for a manufacturer to excuse his failure on that score than to admit that the Divine Intelligence did not place enough gray matter under his hat to carry on his business successfully."

"The awakening of a city is not an easy task."
"A conservative is a two-legged individual in the making of whom God forgot warmth and enthusiasm."
"A tight-rope is one with both enthusiasm and courage left out."
"It is false to say that opportunity knocks but once. It is knocking all the time but the trouble is, no one hearkens to open the door."
"Politics must be kept out of a boosting organization."
"A pessimist is one who, seeing two evils—a greater and a lesser—chooses both."

Speech in Part. These are but a few of the striking statements made by Mr. Wilson in the course of his address, which in part, follows:

General Policy. "It may be taken as the general policy of all city promotion organizations, that cities are built where men want them, not where raw materials and railroads come together, as many think. This in itself, is entirely just. Reason for city boosting, but city promotion does not consist in mere boasting. What is not a constructive force. More talk is useless unless backed up by the intention to do something."

Locating Organizations. "Cities never stand still. They either go forward or backward. It is impossible for them to remain in the same place all the time. If they go back it for a reason that exists in the community itself. It is a fact that all good towns have boosting organizations, and this gives rise to the statement that boosting organizations are a result of a good town where in fact, at least in many cases, they are the cause and underlying force in making the town a good one."

Their Duty. "It is the duty of such organizations to direct the growth of the town along sound lines, to inspire the young men with confidence enough in their city to bet their time, money and future on its ultimate success and to educate local citizens to do so. If it is possible to sell enterprise anywhere, it ought to be possible to sell it at home. If there are obstacles, they must be removed."

Old Notion. The old notion of boosting a town is the western "hoax" where a story was handed to the skies long enough to get the eastern tenderfoot to invest his money. But the modern idea is carried out along business lines, the same as any individual enterprise.

Some Examples. "Kansas City was built out of the spirit of its citizens. There was no particular need for a city at that point. Low Angeles is another example. (Continued on page 6.)

EASTER SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

RESURRECTION OF THE SAVIOUR WILL BE COMMEMORATED.

WILL BE KEPT BY ALL

In All But One of the Churches With More or Less Elaborate Programs of Music and Speaking—Vesper Services.

Throughout all Christendom, tomorrow will be universally kept as Easter Day, in commemoration of the resurrection of the Saviour. In all churches of all denominations, all beliefs and creeds, there will be Easter exercises of some sort, some more elaborate than others, but at least there will be some special mention made of the occasion. The first flowers of spring and the Easter lily, the symbol of purity, the arbing of Christ. With some the giving of beautifully colored eggs to their friends, has become a custom, and handsome post cards with pictures of Easter eggs and Easter rabbits and other Easter emblems, express the sentiments of many.

In all of the churches in this city, there will be some particular feature connected with the services of the day, appropriate to Easter. These exercises are composed chiefly of musical selections. The programs of the various churches follow:

ENTHUSIASM THE SLOGAN FOR BOOSTING THE CITY

Built on a shelf between the desert and the deep sea, every one of its residents is a wide-eyed booster.

Three years ago, Des Moines was a dead town. It citizens lacked civic pride and were constantly seeking a chance to get away. But things have changed. Last year there were no new dwellings constructed. This spring according to the state plans of architects, there are more plans for new houses in their offices this month than were built last year. Des Moines stands third in the list of rapidly growing cities of the United States, at the present time. The reason for this seeming miracle lies in the altered attitude of the Des Moines people toward the city.

Blocks to Progress. There have been obstacles which had to be overcome. But the man who willfully disbelieves that the city attitude can be changed is closing his eyes to a fact that has been and is being established throughout the United States and is hurting himself. There are always some who say it cannot happen, and others who object to progress on matter in what form it appears. Take for example in Des Moines citizen who kicked on prosperity for the reason that a corner lot, which he had intended to purchase for many years had risen in price. But others are quick to see how city boosting helps them. One merchant of Des Moines, who contributes $2,000 three years ago, increased his contribution to $5,000 this year, for he said that he could not invest his money to a better advantage.

Other Examples. Des Moines is not isolated example. Take Battle Creek, Mich., a small town about twice the size of Janesville. What reason has it for being the health capital of the United States? "There's a reason," of course and only one, C. W. Post. If the people of Battle Creek had allowed Post to escape, had not shown confidence in his plans, they would still have been living in a country town.

"The there is Mr. Clemens, Mich. A few years ago the farmer kept their cattle away from the springs that flows there for the reason that it spoiled the milk. But now those same springs have made the good enough for the citizens of Janesville. Des Moines, Chicago, Detroit and other towns to spend their money in.

More Examples. Why is Gloversville, N. Y., the center of the glove industry of the U. S. Not because it is the center of the raw material, or of labor but because the Holland immigrants who settled there had confidence enough in the industry to back it and keep their capital at home.

"It is not the presence of raw materials that is essential to city growth. Witness Detroit, the automobile center of the world. Completely off all the trunk lines of the United States with no raw material near at hand, it owes its supremacy in the automobile world to the genius and foresight of a few men, willing to bet their money on their belief in Detroit and the auto business.

"Shoes are made in Massachusetts because men want to make them there not because of raw materials. Some may say that help is there. How then can the phenomenal growth of the industry at St. Louis be explained?

Do your Best.

"Some men say that the small town can follow in the footsteps of the big cities. Then they must hold them up as examples and do the best they can. The man who overlooks human enterprise in boosting a town must in the end realize all his fine spun theories about the presence of raw materials, freight rates, poor territory. Cities are built where men want them. All boosting has to be at home. You must cultivate home soil first.

Foreign Investment.

"Formerly the people of Des Moines refused to invest their money in the city's industries. Town citizens bought land anywhere, land that even a mortgage could not hold down, equal in area to two states the size of Iowa. To remedy this, the story of Des Moines and Iowa had first to be told. How the corn crop is saved, how countless in one year could purchase the entire orange crop of California. How the proceeds from the sale of sugar in the state could buy all the dry fruits, and the entire lemon crop in California and still have a handsome surplus. How the farm products of this one state could buy all the output of the mines of Mexico, nicknamed the "Storehouse of the World." In thinking and dreaming of the golden opportunities of the west, where they tell the best side of the story all the time, they overlooked the opportunities that lay on their own door step.

Seeking Health.

"Thinking that health could be found anywhere but in their own locality, they moved in droves in California and Colorado. Then they had to be shown that the death rate in these places, minus all those non-residents who came there for tuberculosis was one and one-half per cent higher than that of three of their own cities.

Freight Rates.

"Too much stress laid on freight rate is by any and every city. It is easier for a manufacturer to excuse his failure on that score than to admit that the Divine Intelligence did not place enough gray matter under his hat to carry out his business successfully. Cities are continually laying stress on the non-residents. When it costs one and one-half cents to send a pair of shoes from Massachusetts and fifteen cents to sell them, how can the matter of a slight increase in rates strangle a business. The greatest problem of today is that of salesmanship.

Real Estate.

"There is also a tendency on the part of growing cities to foolish pride in their public buildings and institutions. A fine city hall or court house, an effective police force or beautiful parks are not inducements to a new industry. There are only a moving force in that they show that the city is really progressive and willing and able to spend money for public buildings.

Conservatives.

"The awakening of a city is not an easy task. Some men never wake up. Some men pride themselves on being conservative. What really is a conservative? He is a two-legged individual in the making of whom God forgot war and enthusiasm. And a light-wind is one with both enthusiasm and courage left out. The first light-wind was the steward who buried his talent in the ground that he might not lose it. The first booster was the one who set his foot in the markets of the world in order that it might not be idle. "The best guarantee of a business man's prosperity is the prosperity of the city. A man should not contribute to the cause of boosting his home town simply because of public spirit but because he really believes in the future of the city itself. Of course there are pessimists who willfully shoulder all the discarded burdens and troubles of the world but the pessimists don't really count. The best definition of a pessimist that I ever heard is "One, who seeing two evils—a greater and a lesser—chooses both."

Start at Home. "The business of city promotion must be intensive. The boosters must get together. If you bring rivals or even enemies together, close enough and often enough, they will forget their quarrels, which as a matter of fact are mostly geographical differences or caused by the lying tongue of gossip. In the end, these erstwhile enemies will be willing to concede that the other fellow is a good sort after all. Besides the social feature of a boosting organization smooths out the wrinkles that business sometimes makes.

Avoid Politics. "Above all keep politics out of a city promotion organization. It has torn down more than it has ever built and three fourths of the graft now rampant has come from combining business with politics.

Define Purpose. "In a city promotion organization, a definite purpose is as essential as the machinery. With an organization, a definite purpose, a get-together spirit and enthusiasm, there is no limit to what may be achieved. But there must be enthusiasm. The organization must have an ideal, that of a wider horizon for the people and confidence in the home town. Where there is no vision, the people perish. Preach the gospel that opportunity lies at hand all the time. Down in Des Moines we have a verse which everyone repeats. Here it is.

Opportunity. They do me wrong who say I come too late.

When once I knew and felt to find you in.

For every man I stand outside your door.

And bid you 'wake, arise and fight again."

Arise enthusiasm. When that is done, you have taken the first step in boosting your city."

Preliminary Talk.

"During the afternoon, Mr. Wilson was given an opportunity to see the city by automobile. After the slight-seeing trip, he was the guest at a banquet given at the Myers House. At this time, he made a short address to the business men present, giving the address at the informal meeting. Those present at the informal meeting were: J. L. Wilcox, A. P. Loveloy, J. A. Craig, Geo. S. Barker, F. H. Jackson, A. E. Matheson, H. H. Bliss, P. J. Mount, A. E. Bingham, J. M. Whitehead, Sam Smith, Amos Rohberg and H. M. Dedrick.

"That the commission form of government as adopted by Des Moines was the result of the work of the twenty-five members of the Greater Des Moines Committee and that "face-try day," when the people of the city inspect its industries, was one of its ideals, were two of the many interesting points brought in Mr. Wilson's short talk.

Fifty thousand people inspected the factories of Des Moines last year and as great was the crowd that factory day became a holiday for the city. This is one of the most effective means of educating the citizens in the importance of home industries.

Without the enthusiastic support of the city, a commercial secretary, no matter how capable, would be absolutely useless, was another point made by Mr. Wilson.

As a result of the campaign of city boosting at Des Moines, the retail stores of that city have doubled their floor space in three years.

Where Learning is Appreciated.

It is not easy for a southerner, and particularly for a Londoner, to realize the position held by the university magnates of a Scottish city. Ask any man in the Strand who is the principal of the University of London. The first hundred men would not know that such a dignity existed. In higher circles the ignorance would be almost as complete. But to find a parallel to the position of a Scottish principal you would have to go to the great cities of America, where the "college" and university presidents count for far more than the mayors and the state representatives in congress. In Scotland, as in America, they know the value of education, and they pay fitting honor to its leaders."—London T. P.'s Weekly.

Spray Helmet for Firemen.

Firemen frequently find it necessary to play the hose on their fellow-firemen to protect them from the intense heat of the conflagration which they are fighting. Borrowing from this idea, an inventor has devised a helmet formed with a spray nozzle which is connected to a small hose line. The water sprouts out from the nozzle in all directions, causing a miniature cascade around the body of the fireman, enabling him to attack at close quarters fires that would be unendurable under ordinary conditions.

Magnetic Force, The Operating Means of the Stewart Speedometer

Is so accurate, so dependable that it is used by all big electric companies as the operating means in all their recorders and indicators. The electric meter in your home and in hundreds of thousands of homes and offices, used to measure the amount of electric current consumed, is operated by means of magnetism. Could these electric companies, with millions of dollars invested in the business, afford to depend upon magnetic meters, the very source of their income, if magnetism was not dependable and accurate to the last degree. Yet makers of that now nearly obsolete type of speedometer using centrifugal force, try to tell you that theirs is the only accurate principle.

Everybody is talking about the new Stewart Special. Stewart Speedometers $15 to $75.

The Pitner Automobile Pump What It Does and Why It Does It

The Pitner Pump is the only known means for inflating automobile tires, easily and quickly, that can always be depended upon any time and any place.

This pump from its distinct mechanical features insures the user the maximum amount of pressure with a minimum amount of work, under all conditions.

It has the long sought for metal piston. This piston fits the barrel (fourteen gauge brass) within 4-1000 of an inch. The difference being taken up by a strip of leather that is expanded against the side of the barrel by the air entering behind the leather through four small holes in bottom of piston.

This metal piston in combination with the unique air cushion base assures the user absolutely no leakage, and ease of operation.

There are no bolts, nuts or connections to ever loosen.

The handle is symmetrical and cannot be loosened. The cap has tempered tool steel bushings, insuring long wear. In fact, the whole pump is made as perfect as the best material and high class workmanship can make it.

Pitner Automobile Pump $5.00.

Weed Anti-Skid Chains

You simply cannot get along without Weed Chains. They are "as necessary as gasoline." Your safety depends on the precautions you take to avoid skidding. Weed Chains are the only practical anti-skidding device on the market. They positively prevent skidding—protecting you, your car and your family against accident. But—they do more, than act as a safeguard. They enable you to negotiate mud-covered roads or highways deep in snow. They prevent slipping and sliding on wet, "greasy" or icy pavements. They secure instant and positive traction.

If you want full value—safety—comfort—use Weed Chains. They are constantly "creeping" and do not injure tires. Unless you use Weeds you cannot feel absolutely secure.

Weed Anti-Skid Chains $5.00 to $14.00 per pair.

UMBRELLA FORMS TINY BOAT

German Invents Contrivance That Will Come in Handy in Time of Flood—Has Rudder.

The old Mother Goose rhyme about the man who went to sea in a tub has nearly come true, except in the case in point they can go to sea in an umbrella. A German has invented an umbrella which, besides being useful for ordinary rainy days, will come in handy in the event of a flood. Turned upside down the umbrella forms a boat, with seats on the ribs. At one side is a little rudder, resembling a butcher's cleaver. The center stick of the umbrella is in two parts and hinged, to form a mast, while a collapsible, elliptical frame holds a piece of sailcloth to enable the intrepid mariner to take advantage of a favorable wind. Many times the hero of a comic supplement picture has put to sea in his umbrella, but it remained for the inventor of the device just described to take the suggestion seriously. The contrivance is naturally cumbersome, but that will be nothing against it in Europe, where a man thinks nothing of carrying a rain protector as thick around as a tree trunk.

Boat on Umbrella Ribs.

Do You Cook With A Gas Range? It's The Smokeless Way ==A BOON TO HOUSEWIVES==

Not only smokeless, but burns without soot, dirt or ashes. Makes a hot fire in the cooking range without a minute's wait—no kindling of any kind required.

A twist of the wrist gives you as much or as little heat as you want—a slow heat for angel food one minute, and extreme heat for biscuits the next. With smokeless fuel and a good recipe book the science of cooking becomes largely mechanical—given the cooking time and the oven temperature required and it's simply a question of taking the food out of the oven when it's done.

Smokeless fuel makes cooking so much easier and saves so much valuable time and good money that it is burned in most of the homes in Janesville. In every instance we deliver and supply the fuel direct to the range burners—the cook never handles or sees it.

We illustrate the Regular Gas range. It has an 18 inch oven and an 18 inch broiler, both heated with the same flame. It has 5 top burners, one giant, 3 single and one simmering burner. Thoroughly made, gives good service and is a rare value at the price $16.00.

We Sell Other Gas Ranges As Low As $11, and as high as you care to go

We are by far the largest dealers in fuel in the city—we are also the largest dealers in cooking ranges.

While we sell cooking ranges all the year around, our busiest season commences right now.

The most popular of the new 1910 models are of the double oven cabinet type—keep that name in mind "Double Oven Cabinet"—it's the cooking range you will buy sooner or later. See illustration to right.

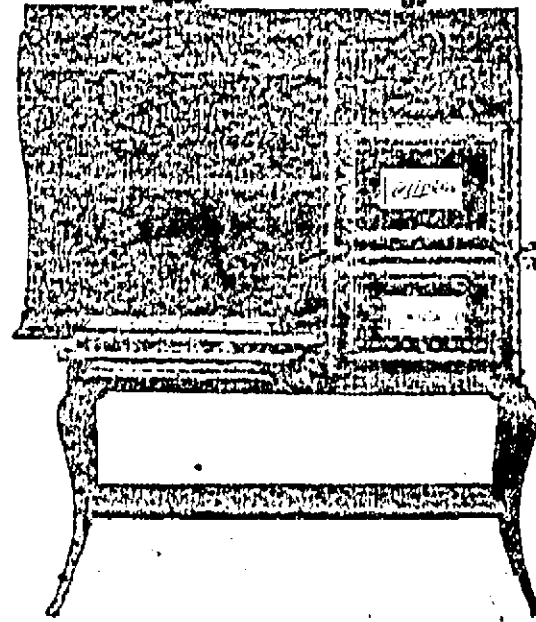

And you will never know how little work cooking is and how much time and money you really save until you use smokeless fuel in one of these new ranges of the double oven cabinet type.

We sell these cooking ranges at reasonable prices for cash or monthly payments, and in every case we deliver, install and connect them absolutely FREE.

This illustration shows the Cabinet Range. It has an 18 inch oven and 18 inch broiler, with warming oven at top, all heated with one flame. It has five top burners, one giant, three single and one simmering burner. It is built high enough so that no stooping is required. The lines of this range are simple, even severe, yet giving the effect of substance in material and tone in finish. It is coated with lacquer that gives a rich, even black, clean to handle and very lasting.

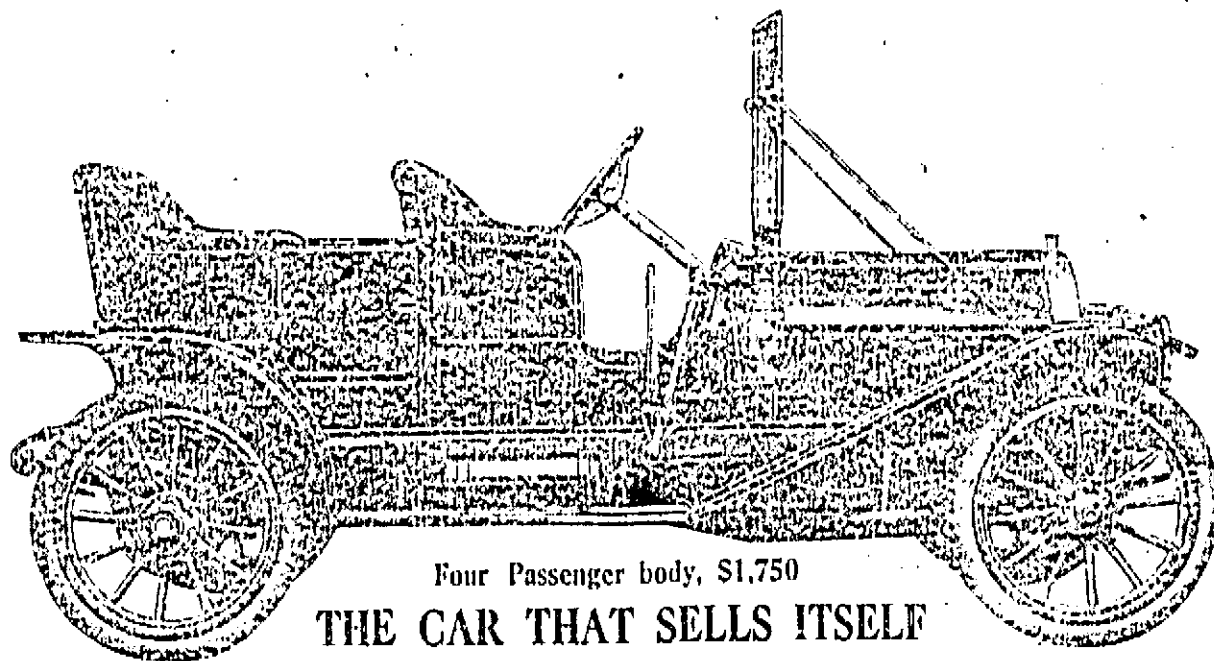

The burners give a short sharp flame very close to the cooking utensil and it has been tested and proven to be the highest in efficiency of any gas range burner in use. $30.00.

This same gas range, made without the warming oven at top and without the hood and splash board can be had at $22.50.

THE CAR THAT SELLS ITSELF

CONSISTENCY IN AUTOMOBILE BUILDING

MEANS just this—you can't improve one part at the expense of another. Each individual part must perform its duty perfectly and faithfully or the car is only half a success. Every "WISCO" that leaves our factory is a perfectly working car. Each individual car being tested and tried out on the road before being let out. There is a unity and harmony throughout that is due to but one thing—consistency and balance in the manufacture of each separate piece.

OPEN INVITATION

We extend an open invitation to prospective automobile buyers to visit our factory and see a first-class, high-grade automobile being made. We want to prove to you conclusively and to your own satisfaction that the "WISCO" is all and even more than we claim for it.

A thorough investigation of each part where you can see it before it is put into the car, while it is being put in and after it is in and finished will prove our statement that the "WISCO" contains more actual automobile value than any car at the price.

The "WISCO" is an economical car to use. It can be maintained at a very low cost and remember that very pretty wedding took place yester-

Monroe, Wis., March 26.—W. W.
Churchill of this city, one of the most brilliant and well educated men of his day, passed away at Oshkosh very suddenly. Mr. Churchill was born and grew to manhood in this city and was a son of Norman and Dr. Ann Churchill. He is a graduate of our came to Cornell, obtaining the degree of M. E. in 1890. Immediately afterward he went to work for the Westinghouse, Church, Kerr Co.

retirement from his work with this company he was vice president and also a director of the same. His brilliant career was cut short by a breakdown in health.
Mr. Churchill was among the foremost engineers of his time. The Boston terminal, the Kingsbridge power house, Hotel Pontchartrain in Detroit, Mich., electrification of the Long Island railroad, New York, Lackatrification of the London underground railroad.

little son five years of age, survives him. He is also survived by one brother, E. N. Churchill of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Minnie H. Cole of Greenville, Cal. The body is to be brought here from Oshkosh this evening.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube.
When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. The inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Time comes out of test are restored by cathartics which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous sur-

SALVATION ARMY'S SELF-DENIAL WEEK
Local Corps Will Devote Special Efforts Toward Raising Fund for Their Work.
The Salvation Army work of self-denial is fixed to commence on Sunday, April 10th, and end Sunday, April 17th, inclusive. The effort is an annual one, has become a recognized institution all over the world and is supported by all grades of religious and philanthropic people. There is a special urgent call this year for the exercise of the self-denial spirit as the Salvation Army has embarked upon several daring projects for the up-lifting of mankind, both at home and abroad.
By all accounts, the work of this great organization goes on apace—moved largely, no doubt, by the example of their aged general. His followers seem to be reaching their hands out in every direction, and they are every year giving fresh and more convincing proof of the value of States—and claim the nation's supports—and claim the nation's supports. This town is not without the evidence of its usefulness in reaching and uplifting a class of people untouched by any other society. The local corps, under the command of Captain and Mrs. R. A. Fleming, is making preparations to do great things during this particular week.
The intention is to raise a considerable sum of money to be devoted to this particular fund.
It is to be hoped that citizens will render what help they can when the captain or some of his assistants call upon them.

Just A Word to The Front Row
If every man and every woman would begin now to use Newbro's Herpicide and teach the children to use it, the front row of the next generation would not be bald headed and none of the ladies would be wearing false hair.
Falling hair means trouble. The drandruft germ is there and will in a short time ruin the best head of hair that ever grew.
Too many people, finding they need a hair remedy, allow themselves to be duped into buying and using something said to be just as good or very much like Newbro's Herpicide.
Why do it? Such a remedy is but an imitation, a substitute. Herpicide is the original drandruft germ destroyer. Insist on having genuine Herpicide and take nothing else.
Newbro's Herpicide Saves the Hair
The results from the very beginning are often as convincing. The hair ceases to fall and instead of being dull and dead takes on the sparkle and luxuriance of true hair beauty.
Herpicide possesses a delicate fragrance which appeals strongly to persons of taste and refinement.
The Herpicide Co., Dept. L, Detroit, Mich., will send a free sample and booklet to any address upon receipt of ten cents in stamps or silver.
One dollar bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists. Applications may be had at the better harbor shops and hair dressers.

THEATRE

Nothing that will visit our city this theatrical season promises a more attractive and delightful performance than Mr. Bernard Daly in his new Irish play in "Sweet Innisfallen." While the theme is old the story will remain forever new, for it is of love and some of all the conflicting emotions of intrigue and jealousy, of retribution and happiness; all interwoven to make a strong logical dramatic story, rich in wit and humor, which will remain long in memory's storehouse. Mr. Daly is the bright particular star of the play, "Sweet Innisfallen" and the proceeds will be given to Mercy Hospital.

Al. H. (Metz) Wilson, the singing Ambassador of German dialect will bring his new musical play, "Metz in Ireland," to this city on Tuesday, March 29, with no doubt, the most interesting news to his many admirers who never miss the opportunity to witness a Wilson performance. "Metz in Ireland" is built on different lines from previous Wilson plays and is said to be much better. It contains more comedy and music with just sufficient pathos to give it the desired heart interest. The performance has been likened into a haunting air trip through Ireland with "Metz" Wilson and company, along the byways where the scenery is magnificent and where the ill-fated couple to follow those who hear the cry of the Banshee is wafted away by the

Mr. Daly and company will play an engagement one evening, at Myers Theatre, on Thursday, March 31, under the auspices of Knights Columbus, which should be a guarantee of splendid business.

Frightened the Feminine.

But One Right Line of Action.
Rightness expression of action what straightness does of lines, and there can no more be two kinds of right action than there can be two kinds of straight lines.—Horbert, Spence, Jr.

Can This Be True?
If a woman admits to herself that she looks pretty well in a new gown, she will not admit it to the other women. If they compliment her dress, she will look surprised and say: "Oh, do you like it? It is just a common everyday dress."—Atchison, Globe.

Nobility of Labor.
There is a petulant nobleness, and even sacredness, in work. Were a man ever so enlightened, or forgetful of his high calling, there is always hope in him who actually and earnestly works. In idleness alone is there perpetual despair.—Cutyle.

ROCKEFELLER JR. AND WIFE FIGHT FOREST FIRES

Oil King's Son Directs Brigade Until Danger to Buildings Is Past.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Mar. 26.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and his wife turned out to fight forest fires on the Rockefeller estate in the Pocantico hills. Under their direction a force of guards succeeded in diverting the flames from all buildings.

About twenty-five men were engaged in the fight and it took several hours of hard fighting before Mr. Rockefeller decided that the blaze was out. There were three fires on the estate and all over Pocantico hills there is a heavy cloud of smoke.

The woods north and south of the estate are now burning. The railroad tracks prevented the blaze from jumping over to the main part of the estate. Men will be kept on guard to watch the flames and see that they do not reach the many houses in that section.

There is a heavy wind blowing. Mrs. Rockefeller broke out on the estate of Gen. Howard Carroll. The fire is a fierce one and the wind is driving it ahead. Gen. Carroll owns one of the handsomest castles on the Hudson. The woods are dry and the flames spread quickly and are almost impossible to control.

DID HE EAT IT?

Jones (at the country hotel)—Long time getting that egg. Were you waiting for the hen to lay it?

Walter—No; the hen has been sitting on it for a week or so, and we had a hard time to get it away from her.

Progress of Languages.

The progress of languages spoken by different nations is said to be as follows: English, which at the commencement of the last century was spoken by only 20,000,000 of people, is now spoken by 60,000,000. Russian is now spoken by 60,000,000, against 30,000,000 at the same period. In 1801 German was spoken by only 25,000,000 people; today over 70,000,000 talk in the same language that William the emperor does. Spanish is now used by 44,000,000 of people, against 30,000,000 in 1800; Italian by 32,000,000, instead of 18,000,000; Portuguese by 12,000,000 instead of 8,000,000. In the case of French the increase has been from 34,000,000 to 46,000,000, or 26 per cent.

LET NO MAN SHIRK THIS DUTY

Every Honest, Upright American Citizen is a Provider for His Family

Not only for the present, but for the future. Today Life Insurance is your first duty to your family, and mark this:

IT IS A PRIVILEGE
If You Can Buy Life Insurance, do it Now

It will be the best investment you ever made.

We Wish Every Man Would Understand the Benefit of the Protection of a 20-year Endowment in the AETNA. We want to preach Protection in Life Insurance, not investment, not savings, not profits, all good in their way, but subordinate, minor, relatively unimportant in comparison with the One Big, Important, Essential Feature of Life Insurance, Protection for the benefit of women and little children, who need it and need its benefits most when their breadwinner no longer stands guardian over them. Let us call it the policy of protection, the substitute bread winner, the volunteer who steps into the breach when the regular has passed on his way, call it what you will, but above all don't neglect to get it NOW, TODAY, while you may, it may already be too late for you to get the benefits. Strange, but the average man thinks it is one of the easiest things in the world to get life insurance, and then is staggered often times to find that he has waited just one day too long. Suppose you try. See us today.

First: Let us find out if you are eligible.

Second: Then let us tell you how little it will cost in this company to put around your family our armor against the rapid firing guns of hunger and cold—and want—and the other shells which destroy unprotected families. It will be worth very much worth your while—but thinking about it won't do you—or your family—any good. Action is the word which brings relief.

EVERYTHING IN OUR POLICIES IS ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED.

and they conform to the high standards set by the State of Wisconsin and the business is under the supervision of the Department of Insurance.

This is not a matter of spending money—it's a matter of saving. Put an amount of your savings into a 20-year Endowment policy in the Aetna and you will have a competence at the expiration of the contract.

When you buy insurance the two prime things to consider are the Agency that you place it with, and the Company that carries it. This agency has been established 36 years, The Aetna Company for about 60 years. This is assurance of safety, bigger and better than any one man or small company can give. It means a business that has stood for generations. The Assets of the Aetna are $92,124,625, which represents a gain of over $6,000,000 during the past year. The SURPLUS is $7,789,201, which represents an increase of over $2,000,000. It is one of the oldest and strongest companies in the world.

Life Insurance in the Aetna is the safest and the best paying investment you can make. Read the following facts concerning the 20-year Endowment Policy.

If the policy is in force one year, it is incontestable EXCEPT FOR NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.

You will share in the earnings of the company, which earnings may be applied on the premiums, or they can be made to hasten the maturity of the contract.

You can borrow money of this policy as per Table "A." At end of second year $56.00, third year $94, etc. You can apply the loan as payment of premium. If two or more years full premiums have been paid and there is no indebtedness on account of loans, the policy will be extended as temporary insurance for the full sum insured, including dividend additions, for the length of time shown in the table "A" under the column "Extended Insurance," and at the end of the 20 years the company will also pay in cash the amount in table "A" under the column "Pure Endowment."

As an example: Suppose you pay four years and then stopped; you would receive $1000 insurance and $12 in cash at the end of that time; if 5 years you get 15 years' insurance and $25 cash, etc.

If the policy should lapse for non-payment of premiums, it can be reinstated at any time within five years by paying the amount due with interest, if satisfactory evidence of insurability is furnished to the company.

Suppose you become totally disabled from sickness or accident, or become blind, or if you lose both hands or both feet or one hand and one foot, then your premiums on this policy stop and the company pays you one-twentieth of the policy each year until the full sum of the policy has been paid.

Suppose you saved your money in a bank—you would get 3 to 5 per cent interest. If you put your money into this policy you share in the earnings of the company which last year on one of these 20-year endowment policies held by a Janesville resident amounted to over 15 per cent.

Freedom from Restrictions: The contract is free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. Grace in Payment of Premium: Grace of thirty-one days, during which time the contract will remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums.

NO MAN CAN AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT INSURANCE

Think of the benefit it would be to wife and family or mother, if you should be called by death. Think of the great amount you would get all in one sum at the expiration of the policy, and then consider that it really costs you nothing except the interest on the money you would be saving. Read over the above carefully, see how you can borrow money on the policy, how it will carry itself, how you can be reinstated within five years if you should lapse.

INSURE YOUR WIFE

and make the $1000.00 payable to your child, you will be saving just that much money and all during the twenty years your wife is insured. Every rich man is insured heavily, every poor man needs it even more.

Many men are insured, but their wives are not, yet no man would insure one-half of his house and not the other. Insurance is as necessary on the mother of a family as on the father. ....

Now is the best time to consider this matter. Every day, every month you put it off you are getting older—your rate is getting higher and no one knows when it will be too late.

Life insurance is a privilege. If it is within your reach today secure it today—tomorrow may be too late. We write the best policy in the world and with one of the strongest old line companies.

If you take out a policy with us you deal with an agency that has been established 36 years, an agency that has looked to the interest of its clients in a most thorough manner. During these 36 years of experience we have found that our companies are of the best in the world, and that it is wise to deal with a permanent established agency. Take out a policy with us and it will mature with us. Don't deal with an agent who is here today and gone tomorrow. Write us to send you a sample policy so that you can read it over carefully, or if you prefer, we will call and explain the policy to you. Fill out the coupon right now.

Do not let this important matter go another day.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist.

DEEP TEA.

Deep tea is not the nourishing food that many suppose. It contains poisonous waste from the animal's system from which it is extracted, and this is true of all beef extracts and combinations of beef and wine. The best food in the average case of extreme exhaustion is grape juice, as fresh as possible, with whipped egg taken separately, if there is extreme emaciation and a demand for food, not otherwise. In a few cases milk is good, but it is often not well borne, and should not be taken with other foods. A quart of grape juice and two fresh eggs, uncooked, daily, will sustain life indefinitely.

Cherub
DevineBy
SEWELL FORD

Copyright, 1909, by Mitchell Kennerly

"Oh, no, you wouldn't!" quickly replied the Countess. "I have seen stock speculators before. They are just as much slaves of the market as the wretched hulk of Monte Carlo are slaves of the roulette wheel. No, you will be back in Wall street tomorrow morning, eager for the game. It is all you live for—speculation, speculation!"

The Cherub was dumb before this outburst. It had been so unexpected. "Of course I have no right to say such things to you," she continued more soberly. "I did not intend to say them either. You have been very kind to us, and I—I admit you in many ways. But you should not have tried to make me believe too much. I am not a silly schoolgirl, you know. I—I have had one experience with a man who was—she hesitated at the confession—"who was a gambler."

She had turned to hide the sudden flush that came into her cheeks. Suppressed emotion was gently shaking her shoulders.

As in a flash Cherub Devine knew exactly what she wanted to do now, and it was only by clamping his hands resolutely behind his back that he kept from taking her in his arms and otherwise making a spectacle of himself. He saw it all. Even if she did despise him he was in love with the Countess Veechi.

The revelation came with stunning abruptness, like the glimpses of flooded roadway when the lightning had illuminated their way last night. Yes, he loved her.

If she should know! He was fairly appalled at his own audacity. Suppose she should be at this moment making the discovery which he had just made! Would she shrink away from him in terror or would she laugh scornfully at him? She was sticking a long silver baton through the top of her hat and listlessly watching the dingy walls of a coaching shop that was crawling up the wall. He breathed more freely. She did not know, then.

"There, you'll forgive me, will you not?" she said, turning so quickly toward him that he started guiltily. "I didn't mean to lecture you—really I didn't. And now I must say good-bye."

"You—must—say—good-bye?" He repeated the words dully.

"Why, yes, I have decided to go to town tonight. I shall ask you to let Thursday drive me to the station this time. You will not go until morning, I suppose."

"But I can't let you go away in this fashion. I don't want you to go at all. There's no need for it."

"You said that before. We've settled all that, you know."

"We hadn't settled it, though," eagerly protested the Cherub. "You said you wouldn't think of staying after I went back because there wouldn't be any food. And then I said I'd stay. Well, I meant it. You can wait a day or two until we make some arrangement. You haven't any particular objection, have you?"

"No, I can't say I do," she answered, looking at him with a smile.

"You said that before. We've settled all that, you know."

"We hadn't settled it, though," eagerly protested the Cherub. "You said you wouldn't think of staying after I went back because there wouldn't be any food. And then I said I'd stay. Well, I meant it. You can wait a day or two until we make some arrangement. You haven't any particular objection, have you?"

"There are lots of hotels in New York," suggested the Countess.

"Hotels! Do you suppose we're going to let you run off to New York alone?"

"Yes, your father and I. We have had a little talk about you."

"You and my father?"

"Why, you—your surprise me, Mr. Devine. I had no idea that my father ever consulted you."

The Cherub smiled complacently. "He has, though. You're thinking of what he said last night when we came back from the village. But he didn't know how things stood then. We had an understanding this morning, and we agreed that we would try to make you see how foolish it was to run away. Hasn't he said anything about it?"

"Nothing that has influenced my plans."

"But you can see how I feel about it, can't you?" Mr. Devine flushed at his unfortunate wording of this appeal. What he was trying to do most was to conceal his real feelings. But he plunged boldly ahead with his argument. "That's why I am going to stay here until you have promised to be reasonable," was his closing declaration.

"Indeed!" A man with such deep knowledge of womanhood as the Cherub thought he possessed would have detected a note of challenge in her tone. Mr. Devine, however, thought that he was managing the affair very cleverly, when she continued, "I suppose I may have time to think it over. I am to reconsider?"

"Of course, all the time you want," he assented readily.

The Countess looked up quickly and replied: "This is Monday, isn't it? Well, by Wednesday night I shall probably be able to tell you exactly what I mean to do—that is, providing I am still here."

"But you can wait two days, can't you?"

"Yes; I can if you can."

Then the Cherub understood. She meant to take him at his word and hold him to it. Although he thought of many things which might happen to P. Z. and N. if for two whole days he was left alone, he did not flinch.

"I'm game," he said.

The clanging of a big gong announced the daily openings of the New York Stock Exchange. During five years there had never been a morning when Cherub Devine was not to be found within earshot of that gong when it rang in Wall street's brief but tumultuous day. He was to be found winding with calm confidence whatever crisis, big or little, might arise, and generally there was something of the sort.

Yet here he was at opening hour on this post-holiday Tuesday morning only vaguely conscious that he was miles away from it all. If he remembered it was only the troublesome thought of a moment. What did he care if a thousand gongs were ringing to open a thousand stock exchanges? They might stay open forever or close for good and all; he was helping the Countess Veechi toss bits of sweet crackers to a pair of white swans.

Perhaps it was the clear, crisp September air, perhaps it was something else, which caused the Cherub to feel within him a new glow and thrill of mere existence. He himself did not entirely understand the origin of this feeling, but he had no inclination to analyze it. He was glad he was there. Especially he was glad that the Countess was there too. Beyond that nothing was to be desired.

This it happened that the advent of a red-headed boy on a bicycle seemed almost an impertinence. The boy dropped his wheel on the lawn, pulled a thin, black book from his pocket and held out a yellow envelope to Mr. Devine.

"Message for you," announced the boy.

"What?"

"There it is, then. Chuck, this message when you put the other one and tell whoever sent it that I'm very busy or sick and or gone fishing—anything you think best—and sign it yourself."

"You don't seem greatly interested in your telegram, Mr. Devine," observed the Countess. "I thought that telegrams always meant something important."

"Not this kind. I'll read them Thursday morning. Isn't there some place we can go where that boy can't find us again?"

"There's the garden. And you have not seen the daffodils yet."

An hour later, when they returned to the house, they found the red-headed boy perched on the horse block.

"Three more!" he announced, producing his book. "And they all want quick answers."

"Good!" said Mr. Devine. "Give me your book a minute."

On the receipt blank he wrote "He-Joseph" opposite his name.

"Guess that'll do the trick," observed the boy.

He of the red hair was correct. No more messages were sent up from the village.

CHAPTER VIII.
WEDNESDAY morning arrived in some miraculously abrupt fashion. It found them sitting in a sunny corner of the library. The Cherub was smoking one of his fat, black cigars by special request of the Countess, and he was regarding with approving eyes her slim white fingers as they employed an ivory needle in the fashioning of some utterly useless affair that looked like a lot of holes edged with spider webs.

She was wearing some kind of a house gown, with lace falling alluringly away from her white neck and rounded arms. Somehow or other the Cherub felt that he was enjoying a rare privilege. He was inclined to accept the gift humbly and in silence, fearful lest it be taken suddenly away from him.

And then came Eppings to announce the presence of Mr. Nicholas Wallowsky, adding that his errand was urgent and important.

"Perhaps I had better take my work into another room," suggested the Countess, starting to rise.

"No, don't disturb the cobwebs. Nick's business isn't half so important as he thinks it is. Bring him right in, Eppings."

"Well, young man, you take that precious message back to the house, chuck it on the porch and get Eppings to sign. Here's a dollar."

He of the red hair grinned expansively and they threw pieces of sweet crackers to the swans. Then the boy came back on his bicycle.

"Prepaid reply message?" was his second announcement.

"Want to earn another dollar?" asked Mr. Devine.

"Yes."

"Here it is, then. Chuck, this message when you put the other one and tell whoever sent it that I'm very busy or sick and or gone fishing—anything you think best—and sign it yourself."

"But I had rather not."

Whatever her protest might have been, it was cut short by the prompt entrance of young Mr. Wallowsky. He stopped abruptly, and it seemed as if his gray eyes, started hungrily at the pretty picture she made, standing there in the morning sunshine. The color went from his cheeks, and his lips were tensely drawn.

"Well, Nick, you see I'm still rusticated. Great, isn't it?" smiled the Cherub.

With an obvious effort young Mr. Wallowsky shook off his embarrassment. Acknowledging the Countess Veechi with a stiffly formal bow, he turned to the Cherub.

"You must forgive me, Devine, for hunting you up like this, but I thought I ought to do it. It's a matter of business. Couldn't we—" And he looked suggestively at the door.

"I haven't any office here, Nick, and this room is as good as any other. Any business I do today will not take long."

"But," began Mr. Wallowsky.

"Oh, let's have it, Nick. Bottom dropped out of something?" The Cherub was smiling amiably.

"I rather think you would have thought so if you had been on the floor just before closing yesterday. The Bates-Brunner crowd is after P. Z. and N. I believe they mean to gobble it up."

"Ah, that gang, eh?" This time the Cherub showed his white teeth when he smiled.

"They began it as soon as they found you were not on deck, and they've been at it ever since. Your brokers had ten clerks out looking for you."

"Got nervous, did they?"

"Nervous? Why, man, didn't you see where P. Z. and N. closed yesterday?" (TO BE CONTINUED.)

HOUSEHOLD WORRIES

The woman who has the care of children in addition to her household duties frequently finds the drain upon her vitality more than her constitution can stand. She becomes nervous, irritable, passes sleepless nights, has headache, backache and other weaknesses that make life miserable. For such there is nothing that gives such quick relief as

Dr. Miles' Nervine which acts directly upon the nerves, refreshing and strengthening them.

"I was in a very weak condition; could not gain any strength; on the contrary, I began to grow weaker. I had headache, neuralgia, could not sleep. I began using Dr. Miles' Nervine and grew rapidly better. For weak women there is nothing better."

Mrs. M. G. Gilchrist, Belvidere, Ill.

LIBERIA APPEALS FOR HELP.
President Taft Transmits Commission Report to Congress in Message.

Washington, Mar. 26.—That cooperation between Great Britain and the United States is impossible as a means of reforming things in the republic of Liberia, is the main decision of the report of the Liberian commission, transmitted to congress in a special message by President Taft.

The report says that disinterested action by England or France in reforming the republic is not to be expected, as their interests lie in the destruction of the little republic founded by the United States as the haven of the negro race. The commission further urges that the United States should seek cooperation of nations whose power, in connection with the United States, is greater than that of Great Britain and France together. A naval base for the United States in Liberia is urged.

DUPLICATES CUDAHY ATTACK.
Kansas City Man Blames Wife's Companion—Third Case of Kind.

Kansas City, Mo., Mar. 26.—For the third time within a few weeks an angry husband encountered his wife and a man companion and slashed the man with a knife when C. P. O'Rand, a piano salesman, met Mrs. O'Rand at her home after she had been "joy riding." It is alleged, and after bombarding the two men accompanying her with bullets, cut one of them.

The first affair of this kind was in which "Jack" Cudahy attacked Jerry Little, banker and chairman, when he found him in his home with Mrs. Cudahy.

The second occurred last Monday night when Dr. J. E. King trailed his wife and William A. Young, an actor, to Swamp Park and slashed Young.

SLEUTHS HUNT FOR SOULMATE.
Miss Gazzam Employs Detectives to Look for Her "Affinity."

New York, Mar. 26.—Detectives, by direction of Miss Antonette Elizabeth Gazzam, the $2,000,000 heiress of Cornwell-Hudson, have started a systematic search for the young woman's soulmate. This news no doubt will be a shock to the thousand-old men who have written to Miss Gazzam since she announced her affinity theories last winter. The soulmate who is sought wrote to her last fall, long before she made known to public print her views on things astral.

Then the young woman projected her astral soul and found this person to be her real affinity. But unsympathetic fate up to the present time has not permitted her to locate him in mortal form, hence the detective.

GENERAL STRIKE NEARLY OVER.
Philadelphia Sympathetic Walkout to Be Officially Called Off.

Philadelphia, Mar. 26.—Expecting that the Central Labor union at its next meeting on Sunday will officially call off the sympathetic strike which has been in effect here for three weeks, union workers in most of the trades still affected by the general strike order, have arranged to resume work on Monday.

Where Bacon Lived.
Palmer's House, the little Italian court leading into Gray's Inn Gardens, which will be largely rebuilt, formerly possessed the privilege of "sanctuary," and hence became a notorious resort for fraudulent debtors and still more unpleasant characters. Yet this dingy "dive" can boast of many glorious memories. Francis Bacon lived here in "Palmer's House" and valued his furniture at £200, a huge price for that period. Here the Whig club and Melbourne and Oates' club met in the reign of Charles II., and here stood Squire's coffee house, from which several numbers of the Spectator were dated.—Westminster Gazette.

"It's a Lonely World Without You"—A most beautiful Ballad, rather different from the usual songs of this class, yet not too high class.

"The Fighting Hope"—March and Two-Step, by the composer of "The Great Divide." A splendid march, yet easy to play.

"Star of Faith" Reverie—One of the most recent compositions of Amida Kennedy, whose fame as the author of "Star of the Sea" and "Star of the East" will never die.

"Red Head" Rag—If you like "Rags" you will like this one. Founded on themes of Irene Franklin and Turk Green's famous "Red Head" Song. Easy to play, yet very effective.

HOUSE NAMES NEW RULES COMMITTEE

Approves Those Members Selected by Republican and Democratic Caucuses—Danzell Is Chairman.

Washington, Mar. 26.—A resolution naming a committee on rules composed of six Republicans and four Democrats under the provisions of the Norris resolution was adopted unanimously by the house.

Mr. Carter of New Hampshire reported a resolution naming as a committee on rules Danzell of Pennsylvania, Walter L. Smith of Iowa, Russell of Illinois, Lawrence of Massachusetts, Fessenden of New York, Smith of California, Republican, and Clark of Missouri, Underwood of Alabama, Dixon of Indiana, and Fitzgerald of New York, Democrats. After a brief discussion, which made it a matter of record that the members named in the resolution had been selected in party caucuses, the house adopted the resolution by a viva voce vote.

NEGROES SHOOT POLICE OFFICER

Sergeant Quinn at Kansas City in Victim of Unprovoked Assault.

Kansas City, Mo., Mar. 26.—Police Sergeant Edward Quinn may die as the result of an unprovoked attack on him by two negroes, on one of Kansas City's residential streets. Sgt. Quinn was shot through the right lung and was badly cut.

Quinn was on a street car when he saw two suspicious looking negroes. He got off the car and accosted them. As he was talking to the men one of them got behind him and began cutting him with a razor, the other opened fire with a revolver. The negroes escaped.

UNION MEN OPPOSED TO SMITH.

Protest to Washington Against His Appointment to Federal Bench.

Cleveland, O., Mar. 26.—The Ohio Federation of Labor, representing 200,000 union men throughout the state, sent a strong protest to President Taft against the proposed appointment of Alexander L. Smith of Toledo as federal judge for the northern district of Ohio. The protest is made on the ground that Mr. Smith is a corporation lawyer and follows a similar communication forwarded to Washington by the organized railroad men of the state.

MORGAN BUYS ANCIENT WATCHES.

Geneva, Mar. 26.—At a cost of $525,000 J. P. Morgan has bought perhaps the most valuable collection of ancient handworked watches in the world.

MINERS MAY CONSIDER STRIKE.

Cincinnati Scale Conference Ends in Final Disagreement.

Cincinnati, Mar. 26.—With a complete disagreement on the sense of the members, the scale committee of the joint conference of the miners and operators of Ohio, Indiana and western Pennsylvania will report to the main body and the conference is scheduled to come to a close.

Just what action the miners will take following this is a question that is troubling the mining interests here. It is known that western Pennsylvania and Indiana mine operators have offered a fifteen-cent increase on pick work and that Ohio has refused every demand.

It is reported that at the meeting of the miners' convention the question will be whether to strike in Ohio alone or to refuse all offers and call a general strike. This latter proposition is thought improbable, as the miners believe that if they can secure an increased wage scale in western Pennsylvania and Indiana it will be adhered to throughout the country.

A Good Land Prospect

and one that will net better returns (than any other) is Alberta (Canada) land. Are you farming for pleasure or for profit? If you are considering profit you will do well to consider this: a soil that produces over 75 bu. of oats, 450 bu. potatoes, 60 bu. barley, 60 bu. wheat to the acre every year.

Mrs. Garrell of Stettler says "I consider this the best country on earth. We have had three crops and never had a single failure. I for one, am perfectly contented to spend the rest of my life here."

This land can be bought at from $9 per acre upwards. ALL BUMPER crop land. Sold only on the "No Crop No Pay" plan.

130 PERSONS ARE HOMELESS.

Three Fires in Vicinity of Boston Cause Loss of $200,000.

Boston, Mar. 26.—Fanned by a gale, three fires caused much damage in north shore districts. Essex, Hamilton and Revere each suffered from the flames. The total loss is estimated at $200,000, including $100,000 in South Hamilton, $75,000 in Essex and $25,000 in the Franklin Park district of Revere.

In the Franklin Park fire seven dwelling houses were wholly burned. Eight lean-tos were destroyed at Lake Chelmsford.

In South Hamilton the flames swept over an area three-quarters of a mile square, leveling 21 buildings, eight of them residences. One hundred and fifty persons are homeless.

New York, Mar. 26.—Adrian Gips, general agent of the Holland-American steamship line in the United States, pleaded guilty before Judge Holt in the United States circuit court to two indictments charging the receiving of rebates from railroads.

Judge Holt imposed a fine of $2,000 in each case.

ASSASSIN OF PRINCE IS EXECUTED.

Harbin, Manchuria, Mar. 26.—Inchun Ankan, the Korean who assassinated Prince Ita, former Japanese resident general of Korea in this city on October 26 last, was executed at Fort Arthur.

EXPLODING DIAMONDS.

A curious fact about diamonds is that it is not uncommon for the crystals to explode as soon as they are brought up from the mine. Sometimes they have burst in the pockets, or the warm hands of miners, due to the effect of increased temperature. Large stones are more likely to do this than small ones. Valuable stones have been destroyed in this way. To safeguard them some dealers place large diamonds in raw potatoes for safe transport from South Africa.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, March 26, 1870.—The volume of water in Rock river has sensibly increased within the last twenty-four hours and is still augmenting. Evidently the maximum has not yet been attained.

Tonight at Lippitt's Hall, Edwin Clifford has a complimentary benefit. Two entirely new plays are on the program, which Mr. Clifford, assisted by the entire company, will devote to their best possible style. Mitchell's anchovies will contribute to the entertainment and Prof. Trembl will preside at the piano. Mr. Clifford is to recite Lowell's poem, entitled "Shamus O'Brien, the Fenian of '38." All who have listened to his elocution pronounce it fine.

The city ward caucuses are to be held this evening. As there is considerable excitement in regard to the
